

CHOSEN.ORG PRIVACY POLICY

Please review our Privacy Policy each time you visit chosen.org or use any of the websites tools or services.

Chosen.org will not reveal, give or sell any specific information about the members of this website or any orders placed by members through Chosen.org except under the following circumstances:

[a] a government agency, or court, subpoenas your private information, or makes a formal request for discovery pursuant to any legal action, or pending legal action.

[b] If our Legal Counsel requests for such information because it becomes relevant to a current or pending legal matter in which you are a potential or actual party or otherwise contributed in some way to the causation of the legal matter.

When you register for an account with Chosen.org, or use the tools and services of the website, you will be asked to provide pertinent information about yourself in order to facilitate any transactions you wish to make with Chosen.org. Please take note that when you post any information accessible to the public, third-parties may record the information and as a result, you may receive unsolicited messages from third-party sites. Observe proper care and caution everytime you post such information in this website. Any personal information you provide on this website remain subject to the terms of this Privacy Policy and Terms of Use.

As a user, you need to provide your information to Chosen.org when:

[1] you will register for a membership account to the website;

[2] you request for customer support;

[3] you order online;

[4] you sign up for newsletters, e-mail alerts and special offers; and,

[5] you sign up for, or redeem, special offers

THE USE OF COOKIES Please note that Chosen.org employ the use of "Cookies" everytime a user creates an account with the website. The website may further employ "Cookies" to support the functionality of the tools and website services in the future. By definition, "Cookies" are used to authenticate, identify users information, preferences, shopping cart contents and anything that enhances your use of the Internet, like storing text data. Generally, Chosen.org uses "Cookies" to enhance your usage and functions of this website. This option, however, can be modified by setting up your browser. You can always reset your browser to refuse all "Cookies" or to display a message when a cookie is being sent. If you reset your browser to Block Cookies from this website, some of Chosen.org features and functionality may not be available to you when you access this website.

Chosen.org automatically records all visitors of this website their IP address, user agent and Internet-bases referrers.

For us to accommodate your inquiries regarding functionality issues and programming-related problems in this website, your IP and e-mail address may be use for evaluation and diagnostic purposes. Such information may be use as well should you contact chosen.org for tools and services. You will be required to complete online registration forms, with your contact information (such as your name and street address), your email address and phone numbers.

For your purchases, Chosen.org will require sufficient information from you, such as credit card number and billing information, before you can complete the transaction.